

The trash in a black bag and the recyclables in a clear bag were mixed together in a large clear bag. The custodians mixed trash and recyclables together, which is in violation of the source separation law! The recyclables that were source separated are now contaminated and could not be put into the dumpster designated for recyclables!

